

Performing Arts Internships at Berlin Cosmopolitan School

Visual Arts

Berlin Cosmopolitan School is looking for creative and passionate individuals to join our international team working with young children in the field of visual arts.

Working closely with our Curriculum Coordinator you will help to bring an open-ended, process based approach to art with young children in the Kindergarten. Opportunities will include being involved in developing our art studio, maintaining and organizing art materials and resources, exploring new techniques with children and teachers and running specialist art exploration clubs with our Art teacher. There are also several exciting projects throughout the year to explore such as 'Toy Revolution' (two weeks of no toys) where open-ended art exploration and experimentation with loose parts play a central role in our curriculum.

Applicants will need to have a range of skills and techniques demonstrated by an Art Portfolio of work to be considered for the role, as well as fluency in English or German.
